

Ficus roxburghii Wall.

Collection Site: Bam      DOC: 11-01-202      Collector Name: Naveen Gautam

Accession No. : CPUH 10553

Common/Local Name (s): Tremal, Triyambalu, Roxburgh Fig, Gular, Fagoora.

Family: Moraceae

Botanical Description:

Evergreen, perennial woody tree, highly branched, trunk is short, bark is greyish, smooth, leaves are round to ovate, large, alternate, petiolated, margin toothed, and have reticulate venation, fruits are pear-shaped, green when unripe, reddish when ripe, grow on branches, trunk, and roots, have jelly-like material, seeds are edible, are very small, and are numerous.

Flowering/ Fruiting: March-April / June- July.

Part Used: Latex, leaves, fruits.

Cultivation: Wild.

Longitude: 76°42'05"E.

Latitude: 31°34'10"N.

Altitude: 799m.

Fig. 4.49 Economic potential of Ficus roxburghii in comparison to conventional crops