

Foeniculum vulgare Mill.

Collection Site: Kehrwin

DOC: 11-01-2022

Collector Name: Naveen Gautam.

Accession No. : CPUH 10554

Common/Local Name (s): Meethi-Saunf.

Family: Apiaceae.

Botanical Description:

Biennial herb with aromatic odour; stem is erect, hollow, green, shining; leaves alternate, green, shiny; open cylindrical leaf sheath; inflorescence is terminal comping umbel; flowers are yellow, tiny, short stalk; fruit is cylindrical to ovoid, light green to yellow brown; seeds are straight, oblong, or slightly curved, greenish-brown.

Flowering/ Fruiting: May-June.

Part Used: Leaves, seeds, fruits

Cultivation: Wild.

Longitude: 76°36'36"E.

Latitude: 31°39'33"N.

Altitude: 912m.

Fig. 4.50 Economic potential of Foeniculum vulgare in comparison to conventional crops