

Psoralea corylifolia L.

Collection Site: Lohara DOC: 04-07-2021 Collector Name: Naveen Gautam

Accession No. : CPUH 10588

Common/Local Name (s): Babchi, Bakuchi,

Family: Fabaceae.

Botanical Description:

An erect and annual herb, highly branched, with white hairs on stem and branches; leaves are dark green, simple, round to ovate, toothed margin, petiolate; flowers are yellowish; fruit is a pod; seeds have a sticky, oily pericarp.

Flowering/ Fruiting: July-August/September-October.

Part Used: Seeds.

Cultivation: Wild.

Longitude: 76°07'44"E.

Latitude: 31°45'18"N.

Altitude: 656m.

Fig. 4.80 Economic potential of Psoralea corylifolia in comparison to conventional crops