

Sida cordifolia L.

Collection Site: Kalol

DOC: 19-06-2021

Collector Name: Naveen Gautam

Accession No. : CPUH 10596

Common/Local Name (s): Bal, Daridya, Bala, Country Mallow. Kharenti, Baladana

Family: Malvaceae

Botanical Description:

Perennial herb, stem erect, round, woody, glandular soft hairs, leaves are green, simple, alternate, oblong to ovate, petiolate, toothed margin, inflorescence axillary solitary, flowers are yellow, calyx is five-lobed, campanulate, corolla yellow, base connate, fruits are indehiscent or partly dehiscent, seeds are ovoid, reniform, solitary, minutely hairy.

Flowering/fruiting: August-October/September-January.

Part Used: Root, leaves

Cultivation: Wild.

Longitude: 76.3625 E.

Latitude: 31.2508 N.

Altitude: 629m.

Fig. 4.85 Economic potential of Sida cordifolia in comparison to conventional crops